Hackathon for women in engineering

Work at the heart of change

About Hack Diva

At Accenture, we believe in creating a sense of belonging for all by working together to build a culture of equality so everyone can perform at their best, advance, and thrive. 2024 marks the 20th year we celebrate International Women's Day – an opportunity for us to have open, honest, and meaningful conversations to further advance gender equality. This year, we are also celebrating how women are living boldly to be without limits and how we can continue to support gender equality – to spotlight the limitless, barrier-free, and unhindered opportunities for women to thrive.

Our culture of equality enables us to attract, develop, inspire and reward top talent. It also creates an environment that unleashes innovation, enabling our people to perform at their very best and develop better solutions for our clients. We are working to achieve a gender-balanced workforce by 2025.

We are looking for a Hack-Her in you!
