NASSCOM FOUNDATION SHE ARISE APPLICATIONS

NASSCOM Foundation and Altran (Capgemini) invite applications from women engineering graduates for SHE ARISE – a new IT Skilling and Employability Enhancement Program.

Equitable opportunities for education and economic empowerment are intertwined with women's right to live with dignity. Nothing, more than education and meaningful employment, has the potential of breaking down the walls built around women. Education is instrumental in helping women defy stereotypes which may block their potentially bright future.

NASSCOM Foundation with support from ALTRAN (Capgemini) invites applications from women engineering graduates for IT Skilling and Employability Enhancement Program, aiming to empower them through a Holistic Professional Development program. Thus enabling them to embark on a Technology Career path thereby increasing women's participation in the CORE Engineering Sector and also contributing in the economic & social development of the country.
